Subject: Dugout Water Date

Lady and Gentlemen;

The water data for Dugout Canyon Mine is ready for loading into the UDOGM database. To the best of our knowledge all information for the 4th Quarter of 2006 is in the pipeline. Two sites do not have the green message saying they are ready, however both these samples have an error message, which I noted in my earlier e-mail. If you would find out how to correct the error and let me know I will check them for update. If you have any questions or find something to be missing please contact me. Thank you, Vicky Miller
